

FUN FAMILY VILLAS IN BALI THAT ARE PARADISE FOR YOUR KIDS

BY ANTONIA FRANSISKA · DECEMBER 10, 2014

Travelling with the kids? Want to keep them well-entertained while you relax in the comforts of your villa?

Here's why you should book a villa instead of a hotel for your family holiday -

Access to your own private facilities, and knowing that the little ones can run around happily, independently and safely, without you having to worry about other guests, is a real plus.

And no more chasing after hyperactive kids and tiring yourself out so much that you can't enjoy your break.

Each of these villas have something special for the kids, that they will fall in love and be the sweetest little angels to Mom and Dad.

A telescope for the boys: Villa Adenium

Perched on the hillside above Jimbaran bay, Villa Adenium is the perfect place for a quiet retreat.

This stylish and contemporary four-bedroom villa is designed for relaxed, comfortable living, offering breathtaking views over Bali's Bukit Peninsula – famed for its crystal blue waters, white sandy beaches, world-class surf, fresh seafood and stunning sunsets.

You will be spoilt for choice for entertainment – as will the kids.

Located on the ground floor of the villa is an air-conditioned play room where children will be entertained for hours on colourful beanbags in front of the flat-screen TV, with DVD player and Xbox.

When the novelty wears off (or when Mum and Dad decide to pull the plug on technology), there's a trunk full of good old-fashioned games, Lego and pool toys to meddle around with.

Meanwhile, the games room is for the entire family, with table tennis, billiard, a gym and a cinema lounge.

The closing deal?

A fully functioning telescope on the balcony upstairs is a lovely touch that will surely delight curious young ones and eager stargazers alike.

Skip over a giant chess set: Villa Saraswati

This stunning villa offers stylish tropical living, just five minutes from the surf breaks by Berawa Beach and only 15 minutes from the bustling Seminyak.

Aptly named after the Hindu goddess of knowledge, wisdom, and arts, Villa Saraswati holds true to its namesake – featuring elegant furnishings, sculptures, artwork, and antique from all over Indonesia.

But the main attraction for adults and children alike is definitely the giant chess in the gardens.

Imagine re-enacting the chess action scene of the first Harry Potter movie right here in paradise!

Bordered by a deck crafted from lovely reclaimed wood, the 20-metre lap pool is furnished with sun loungers and umbrellas.

A flat lawn extends into a magical garden, abundant with flowering trees, ancient gazebos and garden games.

At the entrance to the villa sits a self-contained multipurpose studio, unfurnished and ideal for parties.

You also get to enjoy shared facilities, such as a gym and a spa with massage room, outdoor treatment area, sauna, jacuzzi and showers.

The kids will surely roll around in happiness too – there’s a children’s playground with sandpit, Wendy house, swings and slides.

Here, you can relax on cushions in an antique balé while keeping an eye on the kids.

A delightful family trip that will definitely leave you with a sweet memories!

Villa Sarasvati

From $197 per room per night (total $785 for the 4BR villa)

Location : Jl. Tegalsari, Br. Tegal Gundul, Tibubeneng, Canggu, Bali, Indonesia 80361

For Her Royal Highnesses: Villa Mako

So much love has gone into the colonial design of the villa, that you can feel it the moment you step in.

From its recycled teakwood floors, time-honoured stained glass doors and louvered shutters, to its spectacular high wooden ceilings, Villa Mako captures the nostalgic architectural heritage of the Dutch colonial era.

Here, you don't need to worry about the safety of your little ones -there's even a gated fence that separates the building from the pool.

They can get their fill of toys, Playstation 2, and a library of children's books and DVDs.

You'll also get four bicycles – two for adults and two for kids.

Villa Mako is also a member of the Canggu Club, so you're welcome to use the club's sports, leisure and restaurant facilities.

The Bali Room and Colonial Room enjoy lovely views and sunny balconies, complemented by soft furnishings and colours, such as the green-and-saffron-edged ikat bed curtain.

King-sized four-posters, recycled teakwood floors, French windows with stained glass and colonial shutters, antique furniture, gold-framed mirrors, and soft lighting combine to create a romantic ambiance.

If your little girls love to imagine themselves in Disney movies, it's their dream come true – they will feel like Princesses in the twin-bedded Bamboo Room.

The room even features an ensuite bathroom fashioned in cream-coloured terrazzo, with twin washbasins, rainshowers, and glass skylights.

Absolutely royal!

That little playroom: The Orchard House Seminyak

Hidden in a small lane in the heart of bustling Seminyak lies one of Bali's best kept secrets – The Orchard House.

This charming and elegant four-bedroom character home, with an additional bedroom that sleeps four children, has a large mature garden with lush greenery that your family will surely love.

Both you and your kids will surely enjoy this place – there's a large garden to run around in, a 13-metre swimming pool, tree house and an abundance of toys and facilities.

The spacious air-conditioned master bedroom with its white wooden ceiling, hardwood floors, ensuite bathroom, king-size bed and library sitting area is the perfect place for you to unwind and take in the garden views.

What's more – you get to have your kids close at hand. The children's room can be accessed directly from the master suite.

And what wonders can you expect from the children's bedroom (in other words, 'playroom')?

It's divided by a wooden doorway – the first area is fitted out with a white bunk bed, bright pink furnishings, shelves, cupboards and play space, while an annex features two single beds with white and turquoise furnishings.

The kids would feel completely at home!
